Listening to a Talking Donkey

Balaam, like many of us, knew the Lord's will. God told him he should not go with the men who had come from the king of Moab (Numbers 22:1-12). He knew he "could not go beyond the word of the Lord." Yet, he asked again (Numbers 22:13-19).

Balaam violated God's will because of greed. Balak, king of Moab, sent men with the fee for a word from God. He sent princes of greater stature offering to honor him greatly. He even seemed to be offended because Balaam might have thought he could not pay him enough (Numbers 22:7, 15-17, 37-40). Peter and Jude tell us of Balaam's greed (2 Peter 2:15-16; Jude 11). He aroused God's anger because he went (Numbers 22:22). God's permission to go in verse 20 likely was like his allowing the people to have a king though it was not his desire (1 Samuel 8).

Balaam tempted God's people, as Jesus explained in his letter to the church in Pergamos (Revelation 2:14). He taught the king of Moab to get the women to lead them into immorality, which involved the worship of idols. That temptation resulted in the deaths of 24,000 Israelites (Numbers 25:1-9).

Balaam was punished for his sin. His was a presumptuous sin (Numbers 15:30-31). The women of Moab caused God's people to sin (Numbers 31:16). The children of Israel killed him along with the kings of Midian (Numbers 31:8).

Balaam should have listened to his donkey. The donkey feared the Lord (Numbers 22:22-23, 24-25, 26-27). The donkey was loyal and faithful in service to Balaam, even though mistreated (Numbers 22:28-30). The donkey helped his master see his sin (Numbers 22:31-35).

We would do well to learn the lessons taught by a talking donkey.

Updates on Evangelism

Here are a few of the new evangelistic efforts starting at Siwell Road. If you are interested in helping in any of these areas please sign up in the foyer.

Bookmarks - Bookmarks are a way for each member to keep a list in their Bible of those they would like to have a Bible study with and that they will be making efforts to teach the gospel. Please keep these contacts in your prayers and let the congregation know if there is anyway we can help.

Contact Cards - These cards are designed to be used by each member to add contacts to the congregational contact list. The cards are located on the evangelism table in the foyer. If one of your personal contacts has something going on in their life that the church could help with by sending cards and praying for them, please turn a contact card in to the box in the foyer. Also if you know anyone interested in a Bible study and you would like help or prayers with that study use these cards to submit names for Bible studies.

Card Care Groups. - The whole congregation will be divided into four groups to write cards to our congregational contact list, visitors, new converts, and members that need encouragement or are erring. Each group will meet once a month on
