Dr. Michael Houts has a PhD in Nuclear Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mike currently serves as Nuclear Research Manager for NASA’s Marshall Space Flight Center, and is also the principal investigator for NASA’s Space Nuclear Propulsion (SNP) project. Prior to joining NASA, Mike worked 11 years with Los Alamos National Laboratory serving in various positions including Team Leader for Criticality, Reactor, and Radiation Physics and Deputy Group Leader of the 70-person Nuclear Design and Risk Analysis Group. Professional awards include a NASA Distinguished Service Medal, a NASA Exceptional Service Medal, a NASA Exceptional Engineering Achievement Medal, and being selected as an Associate Fellow of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics. Mike grew up outside the church and was a staunch evolutionist through his early twenties. Mike and his wife were baptized into the Lord's church in 1999, have been blessed with two children and one grandchild, and currently worship with the Madison congregation in Madison, Alabama. Mike also serves as an auxiliary staff science writer for Apologetics Press.
